Peru sign agreement with OECD

President Ollanta Humala signed in Veracruz (Mexico) a Cooperation Agreement and the Memorandum of Understanding between Peru and the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). This agreement formalizes the corresponding framework required for the development of relations between both parties. A Peru's government-run program has also been introduced.

It will enable to boost the quality of Public Policies aimed at improving Peruvian people's lives. It focuses on: decentralization, fight against corruption, education, jobs, environmental protection, competitiveness, investments and fiscal policies. The OECD-supported program "Programa Pais" (Country Program) is based on engaging Peru in putting into practice policies with the technical support and cooperation from the aforementioned organization. IMF: Peru, example of good policies for young entrepreneurs

Peru is an example for the rest of Latin America, thanks to its good policies that promote the capabilities of young entrepreneurs and microenterprises, said the Executive Director of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) Christine Lagarde. Lagarde also noted Peru is one of the countries in the region witnessing the largest decline in poverty and inequality since 2000. For further information click here

Fitch forecasts Peru's GDP growth at 5% in 2015, 5.4% in 2016

Global credit rating agency, Fitch Ratings, predicts the Peruvian economy will grow by 5% in 2015 and 5.4% in 2016 following tax reform and other measures adopted by the Government.

Last week, the Government proposed increases in public investments and cuts to corporate, individual and gas taxes.

In addition, Peru has proposed measures to remove obstacles to investment, easy labor market inflexibility, especially for young workers, and facilitate sub-national spending execution, which could also support improvements in competitiveness.
